INSIDE THE CLASSROOM

- We kicked off our theme of Fairytales this month with The Gingerbread Man story. We made puppets, read Fairytales and acted out the Gingerbread Man in Dramatic Play. We started to talk about the elements of the story. It usually starts with "Once upon a time", it has things that happen in threes, it's a made-up story, and it teaches a lesson. Fairytales are fun!
- As part of our social and emotional learning, we practiced inviting friends to play. We practiced saying our friend's name and asking "Would you like to play with us?" We also practiced playing together fairly and inviting friends into our groups. School is more fun when we have friends and include everyone.
- We focused on our last letters Y and Z during show and tell and practiced our writing skills in our Get Set for School Books.
- We reviewed problems and solutions during read-aloud and began learning about making a connection to a story. When a story reminds us of our life, we make a connection and reading is more meaningful.

Home Connection:

See this week's Second Step Home Link 20 Having Fun with Friends attached to our email.

SHOW & TELL: Next Week we will start to review vowels. Please have your child bring a show and tell item that begins with the short or long sound A on Monday or Tuesday. If you are in the M-TH PM class, please bring your item on Tuesday.
