

M&M Weekly News

January 16-19, 2018

INSIDE THE CLASSROOM

- The M&Ms loved being mad scientists this week. They got to use a microscope and experiment with pipes, test tubes and water in the sensory table.
- As part of our Social and Emotional lesson this week, we talked about strong feelings and how we can put our hands on our bellies and say "stop" when were frustrated.
- We practiced the letter B this week by bringing in many amazing show and tell items, building B's with wood pieces, and practicing writing the letter in our Get Set for School Books.
- We also reviewed our colors and did some math by learning about half versus whole.
